

MY EDUCATION CONSULTATION GROUP

Communique 4 September 2015

The Consultation Group welcomed Stephen Conway to chair the Consultation Group. The group also welcomed Gail Eaton-Briggs who represents TasTAFE and Ant Dry and Cassandra Wells from TASSO.

The focus for the meeting was to

- Provide an update on the My Education implementation
- Showcase the My Education website and the online tool
- Discuss future opportunities between the Department of Education, TasTAFE and the University of Tasmania.

The Consultation Group were presented with a preview of the My Education website which is now live and accessible for all schools. The group were also shown a preview of the ME Online Tool.

The My Education Scope and Sequence have been developed for Years 7-12. This has been aligned to the Australian Curriculum and the Australian Blueprint for Career Development. Years 11 and 12 of the Scope and Sequence have the Core Skills for Work embedded. Six units of work have been developed to support this and they are uploaded onto the My Education website.

My Education continues to focus on providing lifelong learning for our students. The Department of Education, TasTAFE and the University of Tasmania are committed to ensuring students experience seamless transitions from school to their chosen pathway.

Further information and feedback about My Education can be directed to Ben Wilson at my@education.tas.gov.au.

The Chair invited members to add agenda items prior to the next meeting as My Education develops. The next Consultation Group meeting will be held in December 2015.
