

MY EDUCATION CONSULTATION GROUP

Communique Six 15 April 2016

Jenny Gale opened the meeting and advised the focus for the meeting was to:

- Provide an update on the My Education implementation
- Provide a preview of the My Education Online support tool on the website
- Discuss where to next

The Consultation Group was presented with a preview of the ME Online support tool on the website. User testing is currently being undertaken and then once completed, the Consultation Group will soon have the opportunity to individually have a practical session and take a closer look and navigate through the tool.

Alan Davies provided a snapshot of the My Education journey so far covering the following:-

- Implementation of My Education in schools and what is currently happening.
- What is next in 2016/2017.
- Key areas covered; support shown in schools for My Education, learning resources available and My Education website.
- Communication has been key with Principals and schools and the My Education Contacts sharing how it is being implemented in their school.
- The Communique currently being sent out to schools will now be changed to a newsletter and sent to schools each term.
- ME Online training has been delivered to all schools statewide over a four week period, providing the attendees with a basis for the 'Train the Trainer' program now being undertaken in schools.
- Other training courses have been made available for professional learning opportunities for teachers.

The Group were presented with an overview of the My Education website scope and sequence. Additional learning resources for each year level are being developed in some schools that will be shared on Fronter for all teachers and students to access. Schools will use these resources and the My Education Online tool to support the curriculum resources provided for My Education.

Curriculum resources are now being developed for K–6 and visits to Primary schools will be undertaken soon to provide an overview of the My Education program being introduced to Primary Schools in 2017 and look at some draft resources currently being developed.

Further information and feedback about My Education can be directed to Alan Davies at my@education.tas.gov.au.
